Dear Dick:

Sorry to be so delayed in sending you this. Since Mr. Davies' lengthy entry had not yet been retyped I had a bit of a time incorporating all the changes on separate bits of paper which he has sent in at various times.. Should you make use of his material would you please simply indicate that it is from the unpublished entry he has prepared for our forthcoming catalogue?

I believe our loan sheet uses the words "School of Caravaggio". We are quite willing to accept Mr. Davies' "Follower of Caravaggio". For the present, however, and probably until publication of the final word in the catalogue we are continuing to use the title: The Vision of St. Jerome.

I trust all is going well with you. I can imagine how busy you are.

Sincerely,

Louisa Dresser
Curator
